Jour. 410 Media Ethics

1 Term; 3 Credits

In our democracy, media professionals have the freedom to write and report almost anything. However, with that freedom comes an enormous responsibility – not to mention an economic imperative – to act in a fair, responsible manner. And the idea of media ethics in the profession only has grown as the power and influence of both traditional and digital media has increased. This course does not attempt to provide definitive answers to each and every ethical quandary. In many cases, in fact, there may be many "right" answers, or perhaps none that seem satisfactory. Instead, what we will attempt is to provide a framework that will enable students as working media professionals to a.) identify an ethical dilemma, and b.) have a framework to analyse the situation, develop options and select a solution. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to demonstrate awareness of deeply held beliefs in the Codes of Media Ethics and how those beliefs may affect their decisions; critically analyse life experiences and media field cases in ethical dilemmas; and recognize, analyse and resolve real-world ethical cases using diverse decision-making approaches.
