

Hong Kong Shue Yan University

Post: Full-time academic position in Financial Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor/Senior Lecturer/ Lecturer

The Department of Economics and Finance invites applications for a full-time/ part-time position in Financial Technology for the academic year of 2019/20. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank of assistant professor, senior lecturer or lecturer commensurate with his/her qualifications and experience.

Applicants for the positions of Lecturer and Senior Lecturer are expected to have: (i) a PhD degree in Financial Technology, Data Science, Information Systems, Computer Science, or a closely related field; (ii) strong commitment to, and evidence of, excellence in teaching and learning; (iii) be capable of designing and offering courses on cloud and cyber security, RegTech, big data, and related FinTech Computing courses; and (iv) proficiency in English.

Applicants for the position of Assistant Professor are expected, in addition to the afore-mentioned qualifications, to have a track record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and peer-reviewed conference proceedings.

Application procedure:

Applicants for Senior Lecturer and Lecturer should submit an application dossier containing a letter of interest including salary expectation, a complete curriculum vitae, and three confidential reference letters. Applicants for Assistant Professor should also include in the said dossier one or more (up to three) published works. The dossier is to be sent to Mr. Ken Tsui, Department of Economics and Finance, Hong Kong Shue Yan University, Braemar Hill, Hong Kong. All inquiries are to be directed to Mr. Ken Tsui (Email: tktsui@hksyu.edu).

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Personal data received will be used for recruitment purpose only.